

LEDGEWALL

For the look of dry-stacked stone in garden walls

Featuring a distinctive face style inspired by dry-stacked stone, the LedgeWall 4x12" garden wall system is the perfect choice for homeowners who want their landscapes to stand out from the crowd.

The LedgeWall garden wall system features a distinctive face inspired by dry-stacked stone. Each block emulates three courses of irregularly-stacked thinner wall stone that catches the light and shadows. One of our Shaw Retail Centres or one of our independent dealers can help you get started. This garden wall system is made up of several separate wall stone blocks, each featuring a unique face pattern, and a complementary cap unit to give projects a polished appearance. Each 4" block of LedgeWall emulates three courses of irregularly-stacked thinner wall stone that catches the light and shadows for a warm and inviting visual effect.

LedgeWall's rear-lip technology makes installation fast and easy. It's a perfect garden block for small to medium-sized garden walls, raised flower beds, planters and tree rings up to two feet high, including the buried course but excluding the cap.

The LedgeWall garden wall system is available in two colours: Natural Charcoal and Chamois Charcoal.
